

Student Generated Objective Test Questions Spring 2008

True False Directions: If the statement is true, mark it true. If the statement is false, make any changes to make it true.

_____	1	Every time an absolute is used the answer is false.
_____	2	General qualifiers always make a statement true.
_____	3	"All of the above" is usually the correct answer.
_____	4	Few, some , most are absolutes qualifiers.
_____	5	None, never, none are absolute qualifiers.
_____	6	No amount of guessing can replace studying.
_____	7	Guess false is a statement gives reasons.
_____	8	Assume statements are true unless you know they are false.
_____	9	If a statement has a list, it is always false.
_____	10	If any part of a statement is false, the whole statement is false.
_____	11	Statements with generals are probably true.
_____	12	Guess true unless you know it is false.
_____	13	Seldom few, some and never are some general qualifiers.
_____	14	If any part of a statement is false, the whole thing is false.

_____	15	Absolutes are words that make a statement false.
_____	16.	Never, none, some ,and no are some absolutes.
_____	17.	Be on the look out for phrases such as reason, because, due to, or since, they usually make a statement true.
_____	18	Absolutes are word that make a statement false 100% of the time,
_____	19	If there are some general qualifiers in a statement, it may be false.
_____	20	Watch out for double negatives because two negatives make a negative.
_____	21	Double negatives always make a statement true.
_____	22	Double negatives usually make a statement true.
_____	23	Assume statements are false unless you know they are true.
_____	24	General qualifiers are always true.
_____	25	Marking out one negative means the statement will always be false.
_____	26	Never guess.
_____	27	You should always answer the essay questions first.

_____	28	True False statement which give reasons, tend to be true.
_____	29	A good strategies to use is to circle all negatives.
_____	30	You should never answer the easy questions first. You should save them incase you run out of time, then you can quickly answer them.
_____	31	If there is a general qualifier the statement is most likely true.
_____	32	Most likely when you see an absolute qualifier the statement is false.
_____	34	Unless you know it is false, you should guess false.
_____	35	If a statement gives a reason, most likely it is false.
_____	36	Options that read "all of the above" tend to be false.
_____	37	Options that give more complete or inclusive information tend to be the correct choice.
_____	38	Absolutes make a statement false 94.9% of the time.
_____	39	Invariably is an absolute.
_____	40	You should always eliminate high numbers in multiple choice tests including math tests.

_____	41	In multiple choice questions look for the perfect answer.
_____	42	In multiple choice questions the incorrect answers are called distracters.
_____	43	Always use educated guesses.
_____	44	A double negative is two absolutes in a sentence.
_____	45	Assume statements are false because the instructor tries to trick you.
_____	46	Answer the questions you don't know first.
_____	47	On matching cross out answers as you use them.
_____	48	On Multiple choice, treat each option as a true false statement.
_____	49	You should mark a true false statement true if you are uncertain.
_____	50	Statements that give reasons will probably be true because they give more information.
_____	51	You should circle are negatives so that you are sure of what the statement says.
_____	52	The test for an absolute is "does this mean there can be no exceptions 100% of the time?"
_____	53	If general qualifiers are present, there is a good change the statement will be false.

_____	54	Options with unfamiliar terms are probably the correct choice because you professors tend to surprise you.
_____	55	If one part or a true false statement is false but most of it is true, mark it true
_____	56	If you know two or more of the choices are correct, all of the above will probably the best choice.
_____	57	Every true false question on a test has a qualifier word.
_____	58	When a qualifier word is used that statement will generally be false.
_____	59	An absolute qualifier or determiner is words like no, none, always, never, sometimes and all.
_____	60	A negative word such as not means the same as an absolute qualifier.
_____	61	Crossing out two negatives changes the meaning of a sentence.
_____	62	Because you know test taking strategies, you can cut back on your studying.
_____	63	If you guess true, you are not unlikely to be correct unless you know it is false.
_____	64	True false statements which give reasons will always be false.